

Here are some answers to questions that you may have...

Q. What sort of charity will we help?

SEIB will only make a donation to UK registered charities. We can only provide donations to organisations registered in the UK, including the Channel Islands and Isle of Man. Our programme aims to support small to medium sized charities with an annual income of less than £10m. The charity must have at least a full year of accounts registered with the relevant commission as we can't fund start-ups. SEIB will only support UK based projects.

Q. How will we choose the charity to receive the donations?

SEIB will collect nominations for charities until 17th January 2022. Selected charities with the most votes will have a limited time to complete an application form with details of their charity. SEIB will then ensure that the charity criteria meets the terms of the donation and there will be a final vote of eligible voters to decide who receives the donations.

Q. Will the charity be more successful if they get lots of people to nominate them?

Yes, this is true for the first round, but the charity must still meet the criteria for the grant.

Q. What sort of charity is most likely to get funding?

This is not down to SEIB. This is down to the nominations and final votes. SEIB is happy to support any UK based charity.

Q. Will SEIB check to make sure the charities are run appropriately?

Yes, SEIB will make every effort to make sure only well run UK based charities go forward to the final vote. Charities Trust will also advise on the charities and make sure they are suitable going concerns to be supported.

Q. How much will SEIB give at the awards in 2021?

SEIB will give away over £50K in Summer 2022. It is planned that donations will be:

£12,000, £11,000 (highest placed charity with turnover under £100,000), £7,000, £6,000, £5,000, £4,000, £2,000, £2,000, £500, £500.

Q. Are there any deadlines?

Yes, the first round of nominations will close on 17th January 2022. There will also be a second vote to decide the results and clients will be contacted and asked to vote within a two week timeframe for the final beneficiaries.

Q. How will SEIB give the donation to the charities?

The donations will be sent to the charities by BACS transfer from SEIB or Charities Trust who will request impact assessments from the charities following payment of the donation.

Q. Are nominations welcome from anyone?

Yes, anyone can nominate their favourite charity in the first rounds but the final decision can only be selected by SEIB clients and there will only be one vote per client at this stage.

Q. Why did SEIB decide to make donations to charities?

SEIB have been involved with the charitable sector for decades and arranges insurance for many charities and not for profit organisations. The company and its Group have an ethos of 'giving something back' and are delighted to be in a position to make these donations to good causes.
